

Independent Investigation Data Collection: Your task this summer is to gather the data for your independent investigation. You have already completed your methodology plan in class. This states the types of primary and secondary data you are intending to collect. NB. You will need to dedicate a significant amount of time to this as the collection of data is the most time consuming aspect of the investigation.

Remember your investigation comprises 20% of your overall A level grade. It will be marked out of 70. The average coursework score at Rawlins is 55/70 – this is an A. The investigation provides an outstanding opportunity to boost your final grade.
